Headteacher's Weekly News

Life at Barnfield has been as busy as always.

Last week some of our Year 5 children went to a Debating Event at the Orion Primary School to compete against children from other schools. They went with Mrs Fitamant and they had to talk about what made Barnfield special. Mrs Fitamant said that the children who went were all very accomplished. They spoke confidently and used all their own ideas and arguments to let the other schools know why Barnfield is so special. Well done to all those children they made us very proud!

This week Miss Coussins is taking her dance group to perform at the Arts Depot. They have been working so hard on their performance and I know that they will be amazing. It is a great opportunity for them to perform on a huge stage in front of a large audience.

Also this week is Book Week and it is a week that I always love. It is a fabulous opportunity for us to celebrate the many wonderful books that there are. It enables us to learn about new authors and it also lets us recommend good books to others. Mrs Grasby has organised some great things for the children, including a visit from the author Pippa Goodhart. All the children are reading her books as part of literacy this week and they will all get to meet her and ask her questions. This is a great opportunity to meet a real author! Don't forget that Friday is book character dress up day! Who will you come as?
